

ASIAN HORSE PREPARATION MIX

Suitable for any horse that needs additional conditioning.

The high protein level in Asian Horse Preparation Mix makes it an ideal meal-style feed for growing horses. Its high fat and oil content is perfect for extra conditioning without extra heat, and enhances the gloss and shine of the horse's coat. Therefore, Asian Mix helps horses reach peak condition before sale, showing or shipping, and is also an ideal feed for putting condition back onto any horse that has lost weight.

Asian Mix is a high energy soya based feed and includes a full vitamin and trace mineral premix. It has been designed as a complete feed that needs only good quality hay or pasture to balance the horse's nutritional intake.
